Cheryl,

Below is the information I was able to find on the N15 Isotope testing. I mis-spoke, it was actually the University of California-Davis that another Pace lab has used. I have inserted the comments on what they do below. I've also attached the documents that they reference. If you would be interested in discussing the UC-Davis option further, let me know. I can put you into contact with the project manager who has used them.

University of California-Davis.

You need a lab to run the nitrate only result for the analysis (we just did it at our lab here) as it will need to be provided to UC Davis. Then you send the samples to UC Davis (address is on the blank UC Davis sheet below). UC Davis would like for you to fill out the other two spreadsheets for the analysis, which I have attached and provided a breakdown of how to fill out the sheets. Also, you should let UC Davis via the email address on our Blank UC Davis sheet that the samples are coming their way. It is about a 6-8 week TAT.

Thanks,

Jessica Esser
